INDEPENDENT

Take your seat on board Hearing Professionals and drive your career to the next level

Hearing Professionals is seeking an experienced Audiologist to join their team, based in Burwood and Boronia, either full time or part time.

Additionally, we believe that the highest levels of patient care require the best clinical facilities - ours is a family medical model, rather than retail

Uncompromisingly client-focused in everything we do!

We believe that our success is founded on maintaining the highest levels of clinical excellence.

Our team are singularly focused on the client outcomes. We do not believe in sales commissions and prefer to structure staff performance incentives around clinical outcomes and team work.

Apply Now

If you believe in our approach to hearing care, have a current QP, are a full member of Audiology Australia or Australian College of Audiology and wish to further your career within an ethical and professional environment, then we'd love to hear from you. Drivers licence and own car required for occasional home visits.
